25 YEARS LATER

September 11, 2001 remains a defining moment in our nation's 250-year history. For those who witnessed that day and the 100 million Americans too young to remember it, we are the storytellers and stewards of its meaning.

In 2026, we honor the enduring legacy of 9/11: the strength, unity, hope, and service that emerged afterward.

We invite you to join us.

Tribute in Light, the two beams of light that evoke the memory of the Twin Towers, is a commemorative public art installation first displayed on the six-month anniversary of the 9/11 attacks. Since then, Tribute in Light has appeared in the night sky each 9/11 to honor those killed and shine a light on the unbreakable spirit of New York.

9/11 Tribute In Light: Live from Lower Manhattan Beginning at 8 p.m. ET on September 11

Disney and its affiliates, in partnership with the 9/11 Memorial & Museum, will air "9/11 Tribute in Light: Live from Lower Manhattan," a first-of-its-kind broadcast commemorating the 25th anniversary of the attacks. ABC News anchors David Muir, Robin Roberts, and Diane Sawyer will host this prime time event available across ABC, Disney+, Hulu, National Geographic, ABC Owned Television Stations livestreams, and ABC News Live.

Timed to coincide with the iconic Tribute in Light in New York City, the one-hour special will serve as the inspiring and uplifting culmination to the nation's day of remembrance. As lower Manhattan shines once again to honor those killed on 9/11, we will lead families across America in paying tribute, looking forward, and remembering that in darkness, we shine brightest.

RESPONDING IN INK: COMIC BOOKS, GRAPHIC NOVELS, AND 9/11

Opening September 2026

On 9/11, the scenes playing out at the attack sites saw no fictional superheroes come to the rescue, only real people helping however they could. In the immediate aftermath and in the decades since, comic artists have used their work to grapple with the same shock, horror, and grief the public felt, as well as to educate and respond to the attacks. This exhibition delves into the ways they have done so.
